New Measures To Save Grain Are Discussed

Food Conservation Committee Confers With Representatives Of Meat Packers

LUCKMAN RENEWS GRAIN SAVING PLAN
By WILLIAM USTEADE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—President Truman's Food Conservation Committee called on the meat industry today to back up its meatless Tuesdays program with further grain-saving practices.

Representatives of the nation's leading meat packers are scheduled to meet with committee officials to discuss a definite conservation program in the industry.

There is no indication of what program may be adopted by the meat packers, but the food committee is expected to advocate slaughter of more lightweight livestock and increased production of meat by-products as a substitute for top grade beef and pork cuts.

The discussions with the meat industry spokesmen opened food conservation chief Charles Luckman's renewed drive to line up American industry behind his campaign to save 100 million bushels of grain for European relief.

To Meet Millers
Luckman will follow up his conference with the packing industry by meeting tomorrow with dry and wet millers—producers of breakfast cereals, corn syrup and other processed grain products.

The food chief also plans to confer with spokesmen for the flour milling and dairy products industries. But no definite dates have been set for these talks.

American industry already has promised to save about twenty-nine million bushels of the grain needed for foreign aid. This includes a maximum saving of twenty million bushels in the distilling industry, three million bushels by brewers and six million bushels by bakers.

Whatever additional pledges of savings Luckman can obtain from other industries will help take the pressure off the campaign to reduce livestock feeding on farms, where most of the grain must be saved.

It is virtually impossible to estimate the amount of saving on farms, however, and specific commitments by industries will give Luckman a definite idea of how his food-saving drive is progressing.

Pa Newc Observes
Numerous hunters who were in the woods on Saturday report bagging rabbits, but few reported getting any birds.

Autoists were using the new route between New Wilmington and the Sharon-New Castle road, west of the town on Sunday, but the road has not been officially opened for traffic. It is a big improvement, reducing the former steep grade to a much easier one.

While it is not an unusual sight to see lines of new buses en route east through the city, for use in some of the eastern cities, there was a reversal of this program on Saturday afternoon when a line of new buses went through headed westward.

Hundreds of motorists made their initial trip over the new highway route 422 from the Harbor to the Ohio state line over the week end, and were well pleased the new highway has no steep grades, has three lanes of concrete highway and on each side another

Voters Will Elect City And County Officials Tuesday

Weather indications for election day, Tuesday, are cool weather, but probably dry. Political indications are for a light vote despite the fact that important local offices are to be filled and an amendment to the state constitution is to be voted upon. Polls will open at 7 a. m. and close at 8 p. m.

There was little of the pre-election excitement on the downtown streets Saturday night. Around political headquarters workers from outlying districts got their watchers' certificates, candidates did some last minute solicitation, but upon the whole there was little to mark the night from an ordinary week-end.

Local Elections
In New Castle, a mayor, two city councilmen, a city treasurer and three school directors will be named. In the county, three county commissioners, a county treasurer, a prothonotary and clerk of courts, a county controller and a coroner will be named.

State Department Will Stand Firm On Firing Of Ten
WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—(INS)—State department officials reiterated today that they will not back down on their stand that ten employees engaged in highly secret work are not to be told specifically why they were fired summarily on June 23. Nor will they get their jobs back.

Undersecretary of State Robert A. Lovett made clear the decision of the state department security officers in a letter to three prominent attorneys hired by seven of the ten to fight their ousters.

The attorneys are: Paul A. Porter, former OPA chief and head of a special mission which studied the Greek problem; Thurman Arnold, former assistant attorney general and retired federal judge; and Abe Fortas, former undersecretary of interior.

The attorneys, in a letter to Lovett, asked that their seven clients be informed of the charges against them or be permitted to resign. Lovett bluntly informed the lawyers that in no case would the government outline its specific charges against the group.

Instead he informed the attorneys that their clients might appeal to the civil service commission, which would be informed of the charges, but that neither attorneys nor clients were to have the information.

Report B-29 Safe At Bermuda After Reporting Trouble
WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—(INS)—The U. S. Air Forces reported today that an American B-29 had landed safely in Bermuda after trouble with two engines earlier caused its crew to radio an SOS 300 miles south-southeast of the island.

The big plane radioed Sunday night that two engines were out and the ship had been forced to a low altitude. At 12:03 a. m. today, the air forces received the report that the plane had reached Bermuda safely.

The B-29 is from the 307th Bombardment Group stationed at Tampa, Fla.

Bus Terminal Blast Undergoing Probe
HATTIESBURG, Miss., Nov. 3.—(INS)—Mississippi authorities probed today the bombing of the Hattiesburg bus terminal.

Investigation of the blast, which almost completely wrecked the terminal's interior but did not injure anyone, was directed by State Highway Patrol Commissioner C. R. Fradley.

The bombing yesterday was another outburst of violence which has marked the five-month-old Southern Trailways' bus strike.

United Nations Assembly Nears End Of Sessions

PALESTINE-KOREA ISSUES TO FORE
By PIERRE J. HUSS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

FLUSHING MEADOWS, N. Y., Nov. 3.—The United Nations General Assembly swings into the seventh week of its stormy battling over world problems today firmly determined to wind up its sessions by the end of November.

Palestine and Korea at the moment stand in the foreground as the key problems to be dealt with before a final date for adjournment can be set.

Race Towards Wind-Up
U. N. officials are convinced that the first six weeks produced the climax and that from now on the plenary sittings at Flushing Meadows and the committee meetings at Lake Success will race toward the wind-up.

Indications are that the violent controversies between the East and West reached their peak during debates on the Greek issue and

Hughes' Flying Boat Is Tested

World's Largest Plane Rises In Air And Flies In Sunday Test

LONG BEACH, Calif., Nov. 3.—(INS)—The immense Hughes flying boat, the HK-1, rode at its moorings in Long Beach Harbor today with one point definitely settled.

The huge plywood craft, the world's largest plane, with a capacity of 700 passengers or 60 to 70 tons of cargo, can fly.

The question of its ability to get into the air—raised at a stormy Senate War Investigating subcommittee hearing last August—was answered dramatically yesterday by the plane's builder, Howard Hughes.

Hughes At Controls
Personally handling the controls, the millionaire manufacturer and film producer lifted the silver-hulled ship into the air in a surprise flight over Long Beach outer harbor at the conclusion of what was to have been merely taxi runs to get the feel of the plane.

Thousands of spectators standing on the wind-swept shores broke into cheers when they saw the air giant rise from the harbor's choppy waters.

With its eight 3000-horsepower engines pulling the flying boat across the water at a rate of 95 miles an hour, the plane took to the air with the grace and beauty of a great seagull.

It soared over the harbor for a mile at an altitude of 70 feet. Then Hughes set it down on the water again.

Obviously pleased when he returned to shore, the lanky airman said: "I had sort of hoped to fly it today, but did not want to make a prediction because so many things could go wrong."

Plans New Move For Tax Reduction At Special Session

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—(INS)—Rep. Knutson (R) Minn., chairman of the House Ways and Means committee, mapped campaign plans today to propel his twice-defeated tax cut bill through Congress when it resumes in special session November 17.

Knutson, undeterred by two presidential vetoes and two failures to override, declared his readiness to drop a new tax reduction bill into the hopper as soon as Congress formally convenes two weeks from today and to bring it onto the floor shortly afterwards.

Knutson announced: "I'll drop a new tax reduction bill into the hopper at noon when Congress is called together whenever the speaker gives the nod to go ahead."

He reported that the controversial bill would be ready for debate and vote in the House within a week to 10 days time after Congress meets.

Tuesday Voting In State Largely Local Elections

State-Wide Vote On Superior Court Judge—Many Special Election Issues

By JOHN PAGET
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

HARRISBURG, Nov. 3.—A Republican registration plurality of more than 1,000,000 was expected to weigh heavily in favor of the GOP tomorrow in an off-year election of a state superior court judge which may give some hint of the trend in 1948 presidential balloting.

Results in hundreds of municipal elections likewise was expected to reflect registration balances because Republicans and Democratic chiefs anticipated strict party balloting.

The polls will open at 7 a. m. and close at 8 p. m.

Unofficial registration reports list approximately 2,865,000 Republicans, 1,769,000 Democrats and 54,000 members of other parties.

Expect Judge Fine To Win
Pre-election surveys indicated an easy victory for Judge John S. Fine, of Nanticoke, candidate for a full 10-year term on the appellate court. Fine was appointed to the $21,000 a year job June 17 by Gov. James H. Duff to fill a vacancy caused by the resignation last January of Judge Thomas J. Baldrige, of Hollidaysburg.

Fine will be opposed by Democratic Judge Ivan J. McKenrick, of Ebensburg, prominent member of the Cambria County common pleas court.

In a pre-election statement, Gov. James H. Duff said GOP victories in state and local contests "will (Continued on Page Two)

Many Divisions Near Their Goal

Extended Week Of Community Chest Effort Finds Workers Active In City

Seven divisions in the Community Chest have gone "over the top" and seven more have 90 per cent or better of their quotas, Chairman George F. Winter, Jr., announced today.

With their drive extended thru this week, the chest workers are active soliciting to put the effort over the goal and realize success in raising the $102,100 set.

It was announced that organized labor in several of the industrial plants of the city are making a determined effort to increase workers' contributions to make that division of the drive reach its quota.

"We are into the home stretch of the effort," Chairman Winter reminded us today, "we still need over $17,000 to make the drive a success. With the help of everyone we can realize our goal at the end of this week."

Secretary Harriman Asks Government Controls Continue

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—(INS)—Commerce Secretary Harriman asked congress today to continue in force government controls on rail transportation, and all U. S. exports including steel, coal and petroleum.

In his quarterly message to congress and President Truman on the second decontrol act, Harriman also recommended retention of controls on imports to their country.

The three items are now under government supervision as provided in the decontrol act which calls for expiration of the federal control February 29.

Harriman said he made his decision "in the interest of protecting the domestic economy and promoting the foreign policy of the United States."

New Power Plant Unit In Operation

With a turn of a valve, J. W. Mikels, superintendent of power production, and L. B. Round, vice president and general manager of Pennsylvania Power company, turn steam into the huge new turbine at the company's power plant. The new unit, which will more than double the company's electric generating capacity, will soon be in commercial operation. The new boiler at the plant is not quite ready to operate, and full output is dependent on its completion.

Pennsylvania Power company's new steam turbine has turned over for the first time. L. B. Round, vice president and general manager of the company and J. W. Mikels, superintendent of power production, opened the steam throttle at an informal ceremony at the New Castle Power plant late Saturday.

Duplicates Original Unit
The new unit is a duplicate, except for minor improvements, of the turbo generator that was installed in the plant and placed in operation in 1939. At that time the installation of a second unit was anticipated and many features of the plant were constructed with this in view.

The building itself was built for two units. Much of the duct work and conduit work for the second unit was installed. The smoke stack was designed for two units and the intake and discharge tunnels for condenser circulating water were built.

Defeated Laborites Reject General Election Demand

LONDON, Nov. 3.—(INS)—The Labor party today rejected Conservative demands for a general election and appeared determined to press forward with its nationalization program despite the sweeping Conservative victory in the municipal elections.

One immediate result of the Laborite defeat, however, may be a thorough overhauling of local party machinery to prevent development of further opposition to its austerity program and other policies.

Prime Minister Attlee called several cabinet ministers to his chequers country's residence Sunday. They discussed ways and means of strengthening the government's position in the face of the Conservative victory.

Challenges Laborites
Former Prime Minister Winston Churchill, Conservative parliamentary leader, declared the Labor defeat "deprived the Socialist government of any mandate they obtained" in the 1945 general elections and he challenged the Laborites to design and hold a new election.

Labor Party Secretary Morgan Phillips declared the government has no intention of dissolving parliament and calling new elections because of the Conservative victory.

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Nov. 3.—(INS)—Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg, (R) Mich., appealed today for support of the Marshall Plan at the coming special session of Congress.

His remarks were made in a speech at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, honoring the 100th anniversary of Dutch settlements in the state.

Seek American Policy
He said: "Foreign policy is a legitimate subject of Frank debate by our citizens. Foreign policy belongs to the people. It is a legitimate subject of Partisan contest if there is deep division."

"But I raise a fervent prayer that we may strive for an unpartisan American foreign policy—not Republican, not Democratic, but (Continued on Page Two)

Governor Warren May Enter Race For Presidency

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Nov. 3.—(INS)—California's Governor Earl Warren appeared today to be on the verge of giving the first push to a political snowball which might grow into a 1948 Republican presidential nomination.

Shrewd bipartisan observers in the capital are predicting that Warren this week once more will permit his name to be offered as a favorite son candidate for president at California's 1948 presidential primary.

Warren also is expected to consent to his name being placed before the GOP national convention in Philadelphia next June.

These steps have been anxiously awaited ever since the California Republican assembly and state party executive committee endorsed Warren for president and urged him to allow presentation of his name to the national convention.

Candidates' Names Omitted By Error

Due to a typographical error in Saturday's issue, the names of Harvey B. Bush and Joseph W. Gilmore as Republican candidates for county commissioner were omitted from the story concerning the election. Both were nominated by the Republicans in September and both are on the ballot in the Republican block at tomorrow's election.

Investigating Charges Made On Pier At Dam

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 3.—(INS)—Four Allegheny County congressmen today opened an informal investigation into charges by Congressman James G. Fulton that an engineering "blunder" had occurred in construction of a railroad pier near the $43,000,000 Conemaugh flood control dam.

Congressman Robert J. Corbett said the four would take their probe to the dam site soon. They already have questioned Col. Francis Faulkner, Pittsburgh district engineer for the U. S. Army.

Fulton's charges grew out of the "slipping" of a pier which was to support a bridge for the Pennsylvania railroad, which is being relocated to make way for the dam.

Col. Faulkner denied there had been an engineering blunder in construction of the pier, asserting test holes at the site had indicated no presence of underground water.

Corbett said the four would determine whether to press a formal congressional investigation, adding that should the dam itself prove to be unstable after completion there would be danger of Pittsburgh being caught in "another Johnstown flood."

Congressmen John McDowell and Frank Buchanan are assisting Fulton and Corbett in the informal probe.

Soviet Diplomats Ousted By Brazil Arrive In N. Y.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—(INS)—Four Soviet diplomats and their families arrived by air in New York today from Brazil where they were ousted after the South American Republic formally severed relations with Moscow.

They slipped by newsmen and photographers at LaGuardia Field and immediately went to a small mid-Manhattan hotel where a room clerk said "they told me they are going to stay a while."

Brazil ordered the Russian embassy staff to leave the country after a long series of provocations which was touched off when the Moscow Literary Gazette called President Dutra a friend of Anglo-American imperialism who was decorated by Hitler and Mussolini.

WILL BROADCAST WEDDING CEREMONY

phones will pick up the voice of the royal bride, England's future queen, as she pledges her troth.

The entire regal ceremony is to be broadcast. The whole empire, and anyone else in the world who cares to listen in, can hear the wedding of the pretty queen-to-be.

The broadcast will establish a precedent of historic importance. It is certain to attract the largest international radio audience since a certain December day in 1936 when a man went on the air to renounce the world's greatest throne and empire for love of an American woman.

His majesty, the king, has given permission for the ceremony to be broadcast although he has strictly forbidden that the ceremony within the ancient Abbey be either filmed or televised. Many Englishmen are sad that the king has decided against filming the ceremony, a common practice at most weddings both great and small in this movie-camera age.

VOTERS WILL ELECT CITY AND COUNTY OFFICIALS TUESDAY

upon Sunday sports, Wampum will vote upon Sunday motion pictures and Neshannock township will vote upon a $100,000 school bond issue. The county at large, along with the other counties of the state will vote upon whether or not the state will increase its bonded indebtedness limit from one million to fifty million dollars. Statewide, a judge of the superior court will be named.

In some nearby counties there are bitter political battles, but here in Lawrence County no such intense fights loom. This is probably due in part to the fact that the Republican nominees for county treasurer, controller, prothonotary and city treasurer also have the Democratic nominations.

The count of the votes Tuesday night should not be unusually late. As the votes are completed by the election boards, the boxes are to be taken to the court house.

American — which substantially united our people at the water's edge."

Vandenberg endorsed both the short-range administration program for aid to Europe and the long-range Marshall plan. He declared:

"The former involves elemental human survival in a free society. He commented on the long-range Marshall Plan that 'we must find reasonable promises of success because we cannot indefinitely underwrite the world. We must know the total bill, including China.'

Charges Russian Veto Violation

He charged Russia with violating a "textual pledge" to use the veto "sparingly" in the United Nations. Instead, he asserted, the Russians "have virtually paralyzed the Security Council by 20 vetoes. Vandenberg then added:

"Majorities are not necessarily always right but it is a hard strain on elementary logic to believe that these heavily preponderant votes from the conscience of the world could always be so continuously and so consistently wrong."

The Michigan senator termed recent statement by Russian diplomats and newsmen "the most amazing anti-American vilification which ever belabored the ears of the world."

been a more economical plant from a construction standpoint and an earlier completion date than would otherwise have been expected. Increased construction costs and delays in deliveries, however, have reduced appreciably the company's earlier expectations in so far as cost and completion date are concerned.

Ordered in 1941

The unit was originally ordered in 1941 but the onset of the war forced the diversion of turbine manufacturing facilities to direct war products and approval of construction was denied. Not until May, 1945 was authority secured from the War Production Board to proceed with the new unit.

The plans then called for completion of the unit late in 1946. Delays occasioned by the national strikes in 1946 and by various material shortages set back the construction schedule. However, its completion now marks it as one of the first postwar electric generating units in this area.

Some Work Yet To Be Done

Full operation of the unit is dependent upon the completion of the boiler at the plant. Some work is yet to be done before steam can be generated in the new boiler. It is hoped, however, that such operation will be possible within a few weeks and that the entire plant will be in operation to help carry the anticipated pre-Christmas peaks on the system.

The new turbo generator unit increases to 88,000 kilowatts the generating capability of the plant. This is slightly in excess of double the present unit's ability, due to the fact that a slightly larger boiler is being installed. The new boiler has a normal steam generating capacity of 450,000 pounds of steam per hour, compared to 400,000 pounds for the present boiler.

Investment of $3,200,000

The new addition, when completed, will represent an investment in excess of $3,200,000 by the company. In addition, transmission system improvements and additions are being made in connection with the program, costing another $500,000. The plant employs about 50 men. It is the biggest user of coal in this area, and will consume between 800 and 1,000 tons per day when in full operation. Much of this coal is obtained from mines within the area, thus providing extensive additional employment to men engaged in the mining and transporting of the coal.

It is planned to hold a public inspection of the new plant after all construction work has been completed. This may not take place for several months, since changes in coal handling and other phases of the job are still in process.

go far toward creating the right kind of atmosphere for next year when we will elect a president."

The sum total of local elections, he added, would "add up to the state picture."

"Republican Year"

GOP State Chairman M. Harvey Taylor said "it's definitely Republican this year" while Democratic State Chairman J. Warren McKelrick said McKelrick had "made fine showing and his chances of winning are very good."

Coupled with the statewide balloting will be a constitutional amendment before the electorate for consideration.

The commonwealth will ask voters to sanction raising the 83-year-old $1,000,000 constitutionally-imposed debt limitation to $50,000,000 to provide funds when necessary to meet revenue deficiencies.

Approval of the change would permit the commonwealth to borrow money in excess of a million dollars without waiting until a constitutional amendment was approved by two successive regularly elected legislatures and a majority of the electorate.

Local option voting on Sunday motion pictures will be held in 47 municipalities while similar votes will be taken on Sunday sports in seven political sub-divisions.

Full operation of the unit is dependent upon the completion of the boiler at the plant. Some work is yet to be done before steam can be generated in the new boiler. It is hoped, however, that such operation will be possible within a few weeks and that the entire plant will be in operation to help carry the anticipated pre-Christmas peaks on the system.

The new turbo generator unit increases to 88,000 kilowatts the generating capability of the plant. This is slightly in excess of double the present unit's ability, due to the fact that a slightly larger boiler is being installed. The new boiler has a normal steam generating capacity of 450,000 pounds of steam per hour, compared to 400,000 pounds for the present boiler.

been a more economical plant from a construction standpoint and an earlier completion date than would otherwise have been expected. Increased construction costs and delays in deliveries, however, have reduced appreciably the company's earlier expectations in so far as cost and completion date are concerned.

Ordered in 1941

The unit was originally ordered in 1941 but the onset of the war forced the diversion of turbine manufacturing facilities to direct war products and approval of construction was denied. Not until May, 1945 was authority secured from the War Production Board to proceed with the new unit.

The plans then called for completion of the unit late in 1946. Delays occasioned by the national strikes in 1946 and by various material shortages set back the construction schedule. However, its completion now marks it as one of the first postwar electric generating units in this area.

Some Work Yet To Be Done

Full operation of the unit is dependent upon the completion of the boiler at the plant. Some work is yet to be done before steam can be generated in the new boiler. It is hoped, however, that such operation will be possible within a few weeks and that the entire plant will be in operation to help carry the anticipated pre-Christmas peaks on the system.

The new turbo generator unit increases to 88,000 kilowatts the generating capability of the plant. The new boiler has a normal steam generating capacity of 450,000 pounds of steam per hour, compared to 400,000 pounds for the present boiler.

Investment of $3,200,000

The new addition, when completed, will represent an investment in excess of $3,200,000 by the company. In addition, transmission system improvements and additions are being made in connection with the program, costing another $500,000. The plant employs about 50 men. It is the biggest user of coal in this area, and will consume between 800 and 1,000 tons per day when in full operation. Much of this coal is obtained from mines within the area, thus providing extensive additional employment to men engaged in the mining and transporting of the coal.

It is planned to hold a public inspection of the new plant after all construction work has been completed. This may not take place for several months, since changes in coal handling and other phases of the job are still in process.

TUESDAY VOTING IN STATE LARGELY LOCAL ELECTIONS

go far toward creating the right kind of atmosphere for next year when we will elect a president."

The sum total of local elections, he added, would "add up to the state picture."

"Republican Year"

GOP State Chairman M. Harvey Taylor said "it's definitely Republican this year" while Democratic State Chairman J. Warren McKelrick said McKelrick had "made fine showing and his chances of winning are very good."

Coupled with the statewide balloting will be a constitutional amendment before the electorate for consideration.

The commonwealth will ask voters to sanction raising the 83-year-old $1,000,000 constitutionally-imposed debt limitation to $50,000,000 to provide funds when necessary to meet revenue deficiencies.

Approval of the change would permit the commonwealth to borrow money in excess of a million dollars without waiting until a constitutional amendment was approved by two successive regularly elected legislatures and a majority of the electorate.

Local option voting on Sunday motion pictures will be held in 47 municipalities while similar votes will be taken on Sunday sports in seven political sub-divisions.

on the Soviet "war mongering" charges against the United States and Britain.

A milder flare-up in forthcoming sessions is expected to be touched off by the Security Council "Big Five" veto and during the political and Security committee effort to solve the U. N. membership dispute.

The Korean independence measure now being sponsored in the political and Security committee by the United States is capable of further heated language but to a smaller extent than in the case of Greece.

An off-side decision probably to be taken before adjournment is that of holding the 1948 General Assembly in Europe, most likely in Paris.

The U. S. plan on Palestine presented last week—establishment of independent Jewish and Arab states and British troop withdrawal by next July—jolted the delegates into new realization that the U. N. majority recommendation for partition was still far from producing a satisfactory solution on the Holy Land.

The delegates at Lake Success today are hearing the Soviet viewpoint on Palestine, which runs in general along the line that the Security Council instead of the assembly should be made responsible for the Holy Land partition.

Between the two major viewpoints stands the British government's continued insistence that only a solution agreed to by both the Arabs and Jews can be accepted.

In View Of The News

By J. C. Ostreicher, INS Foreign Director

Sombre and sketchy dispatches from India say that Moslem tribesmen have burned the winter palace of the Maharajah of Kashmir. Sir Hari Singh, in the latest chapter of the sub-continent's sad history.

If this is his new castle on a river front in the Kashmir Gorges, India has lost a virtual wonder of the modern world. For Sir Hari Singh put into construction of the edifice a colossal fortune and it has few parallels. It combines the splendor of Venetian palaces with the dimensions of Buckingham palace.

And while only a select group of foreigners ever have entered its brocaded halls, enough is known about it to present a picture that is difficult to describe when it is considered that the Maharajah has several other magnificent residences.

Massive Colonnades

The palace stands on the bank of a narrow river. Its entire huge frontage is given over to massive colonnades. Directly across from the majestic entrance there lies at mooring what is known as the "Royal Barge" but is in effect a houseboat beyond the wildest dreams. With Gothic windows of stained glass, the barge has a group of twelve oarsmen to propel it and accommodations for as large a party of sightseers as the Maharajah ever would want to take cruising amidst the stunning beauties of the Kashmir mountain rivers.

Sir Hari Singh came into a fortune of $75 million in cash and diamonds when he succeeded his father. In addition, he had a guaranteed yearly income of five million dollars. In addition to all the other advantages of his high estate, he served in the days before Indian independence as an aide-de-camp to King-Emperor George VI.

Historic Occasion
His coronation was an historic occasion. It is said that next to it those of European kings were but pale carbon copies.

In the new palace, he seated himself upon a throne of pure gold, beneath an umbrella and canopy also fashioned from gold. There was no official estimate of the worth of diamonds, emeralds and rubies that adorned his costume.

But it was made public officially at the time that one of his retainers wore jewels that would have brought a minimum of 300 thousand dollars in any market. And he was merely a retainer.

The continued disorders in Kashmir as well as other Indian states since the division into the Union of India and Pakistan have occasioned great concern in London, New Delhi and Karachi.

If they reach a point that means destruction of the acquired wealth and luxury of the Indian princes, it is feared the sub-continent will multiply its many centuries-old griefs and woes. For in those princely possessions lie perhaps the greatest negotiable assets and bargaining-points of modern India.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

PREPARE A TOT FOR HOMEWORK

If your child in the upper grades or high school is to gain as good education as he should, fit himself to be most useful in the world, and acquire a sound foundation for good moral character and citizenship, he will almost surely be assigned at school a reasonable amount of homework and his parents will see that he does it regularly and faithfully.

The foregoing is the first paragraph of my special bulletin, "Parents and the Child's Homework" to be had in a stamped envelope by writing me at 235 East 45th Street, New York, N. Y. Let me relay a few more high spots from that bulletin.

Start Early

Begin when the child is a tot to prepare him to apply himself at homework, training him in good routine, self-reliance and responsibility.

If, fortunately, the child has no homework before the third or fourth grade see that at about the third or fourth grade he settles down for about 30 minutes an evening to do some reading from a well selected book or magazine easy enough for him to read well.

After your child has mastered early steps in reading, your main problem is to find him reading materials he will enjoy reading.

Confer With Teacher

In case your child in the primary grades has homework assignments, find out exactly what he is supposed to do, even by conferring with the teacher, and help him as kindly and patiently as you can.

As soon as he receives regular homework assignments, make sure that he goes at it at a regular time early each evening, either according to the clock or directly following some activity in the family.

For most children the place cannot be in a quiet separate room. It need not be. Let it be at the kitchen table, dining room table or at a desk in the corner. Allow no one to disturb the child while at his homework. Help him acquire the habit of assembling his books, paper, pen and the like before beginning, and of getting right down to business.

As a rule, you should not help a child with his homework unless he asks you to do so. When you do help, prove that you really help and do not hinder. Go hide your self in ignominy if you should let your voice rise in anger.

Help The Child

Sometimes we parents can help the child in such subjects as history and science by reading to him from any text book of his which is too hard for him to read well, and help him turn each paragraph into a few words of his own.

A child lags at school and dawdles over his homework, or neglects it entirely because he is so poor a reader. The longer a child goes to school the more of his lessons are really reading lessons. I have written "Home Helps for Poor Readers." Part I for primary grades, Part II for older persons. Each may be had in a stamped envelope by writing me at 235 East 45th Street, New York, N. Y.

Many a child in the upper grades or high school can teach his parents a great deal from books. All of us parents can learn much from our children, even while they are in the kindergarten. When we do so in humility we make them feel more worthwhile, win their admiration and stimulate their zeal to learn.

COLLEGE FOOTBALL

I wonder is it envy or regret for what I've missed! No pennant on the bedroom wall, no place on glory's list. No sweater with a letter and no emblem made of gold. No ring upon my finger—and for these things now too old—But through every football season I am one among the throng To share the thrills of college and to cheer the boys along.

It is more than love of action that attracts me to the stand. There's the group that leads the cheering and the music of the band. And the crowds that wear the colors of the two competing teams.

Which a little fellow cherished as the fondest of his dreams. Though he never realized it, when they sing the college song. He likes to stand bare-headed paying tribute with the throng.

Oh, there must be thousands present who in this resemble me: No sweater with a letter and no watch chain with a key. No sheepskin phrased in Latin to display with honest pride. But there to share the rapture of a dream that was denied.

So I hail the football season and the game with all its thrills. For the hopes a youngster cherished, all in vain, it now fulfills. (Copyright, 1947, Edgar A. Guest)

FOMITES

Fomites is a word which used to be pretty common. It is pronounced foe-mee-tees. It means things which can carry infectious disease. It is usually used to mean clothing or bed clothes or home furnishings.

Nowadays we are not so much concerned with the spread of disease by fomites.

We do not think that scarlet fever or measles are carried that way.

It seems that the sick person is the one to spread the disease.

Disease germs usually do not live very long after they leave the body of the sick person. A cup or spoon or nanky is likely to be the guilty one. Lice and bugs and worms may be distributed in clothing. Now don't start to scratch.

Great Game Of Politics

"Phonos Bolonus Primus"

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—If the men who rule Russia have a sense of humor (which is not too sure) they must be laughing until their sides aches over the manner in which they have been able to handle the investigation of the House Committee on Un-American Activities into Communist saturation of and influence on the moving-picture industry.

ON the other hand, many discerning citizens of this country are filled with humiliation and chagrin. It is no laughing matter with them. For the plain truth is the Communists have made monkeys of us in this business of showing them up. Instead of themselves being discredited, they have almost succeeded in discrediting the investigation. Instead of suffering from exposure of their subversive enterprises, they have made Congress seem silly and our system inept.

THE mortifying phase of this is that it has been accomplished through resort to the great traditional institutions upon which this nation was founded and to the destruction of which all Communists are pledged. In addition, they have had the enthusiastic aid of many of our "leading liberals," literary and political. Also of the CIO, all the radical publications and, strangely enough, some usually conservative newspapers whose detestation of all things communistic is not to be doubted. Undoubtedly, the fumbling of the committee has been a factor, too. But the real effects were achieved by the sickness with which individuals seeking to overthrow the American system sheltered themselves under its wings. It really is an astounding exhibition. Here is a great industry, the psychological effect of which on the American people is hard to exaggerate. And here is a committee of Congress charged with uncovering Un-American activities making an honest (no matter how clumsy) effort to drive out the anti-American propagandists known to infest it.

THIS effort comes at a time when the Soviet Republic is strenuously striving to poison the minds of all other nations against us. It would seem stupid to permit its sympathizers, whether many or few, to nest in Hollywood or anywhere else where they have an opportunity to drop the white lead in the coffee cups of our own people. The job of putting an end to this should commend itself to every normal American. Yet, what has happened? Immediately the committee started to sustain the charge, which every informed man knows to be true, that Hollywood is a hotbed of communism, the individuals affected, plus their hired attorneys, their radical supporters, all the cheap little left-wing agitators, journalists and politicians set up a tremendous caterwauling about their "constitutional rights."

THEY scream about "freedom of speech" and "freedom of expression." They invoke the Bill of Rights. They squeal about the "invasion" of their "civil liberties." And bleat all over the place about "persecution." The window dressing, highly paid and extremely smug "representatives of the industry," impudently urging Congress to "reform," portentously proclaim that the "next step" will be "censorship of the press and radio." Joined by many sincere, if not too smart, persons who habitually think every time a professional demagogue strikes his "note of alarm," the cause of "true liberalism" is menaced, the noise they make almost drowns the voice of the committee and rattles some of its members.

IT is the sheerest humbug. It is what Mr. Baruch used to call "the old Phonos Bolonus Primus." It is intended to confuse the country, discredit Congress, render the committee futile and protect the uncovered Communist. For Communists, whose avowed goal is the overthrow of our system, solemnly to invoke protection of the bulwarks of that system, when simply asked whether they are Communists, is, of course, ridiculous. But to have them get away with it certainly puts us among the greatest suckers of all time. No clear-headed person has the remotest idea that, following this investigation, there will be any censorship of press, radio or screen. That anyone's "constitutional rights" or "civil liberties" have been invaded is nonsense. Nor, as a result, will the Communist party, operating within our laws, be outlawed, though a majority of our people would like to see just that.

BUT, as Mr. Arthur Krock points out, one result will be that the Hollywood producers, coerced, one way or another, into putting masked Soviet propaganda on the screen, or who mistakenly thought it was "liberal" to do so, will be encouraged to stick to straight stuff in the future. And the actors and others who have been badgered by the self-styled "liberals" will find behind them a much stronger public sentiment. For, despite the uproar about "constitutional rights," etc., somehow this committee has centered attention on the vital facts that Soviet propaganda has found its way to the screen and that there are Soviet propagandists actively interested in putting it there. From now on, the nose of the average American movie customer will be more sensitive to the smell. And that will make everybody connected with movie production more circumspect—which assuredly is a gain. (Distributed by McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

U.S. Is Reviewing Policy On Official Soviet Visas

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—(INS)—Acting Secretary of State Lovett disclosed that the United States is "reviewing its policy" on the issuance of visas for entry of Soviet officials into this country.

His statement was made in a letter to Sen. Wiley (R) Wis., chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee.

Lovett informed Wiley that this government now has about 155 persons in Russia as against a total of 516 Soviet representatives in the United States.

Wiley wrote Secretary of State Marshall on Sept. 30, asking for the information.

Lovett's reply pointed out that the State Department is unable to maintain accurate statistics on private American citizens in Russia since any holder of a valid American passport may apply direct to the Soviet government for a visa without advising the State department.

He concluded:
Discourages Travel To Soviet
"It may be stated as a generalization, however, that the Soviet government since the outbreak of the war has discouraged travel to the Soviet Union and that American citizens applying for Soviet visas must demonstrate to the satisfaction of the Soviet authorities some compelling reason for their projected visit before favorable action is taken on their applications."

"In view of recent developments, the department is currently reviewing its policy concerning the issuance of visas to Soviet officials."

Lovett gave this breakdown of Americans in the Soviet Union: Official personnel, Embassy and consular, 65; army and air forces, 41; navy, 16; dependents, 17, for a total of 139. Unofficial persons: foreign correspondents, 8; Catholic priests, 1; miscellaneous, 7, for an overall total of 155.

Lovett added there were about 99 non-official Americans of verified citizenship awaiting Soviet permission to leave that country. Many of these, he said, are dual nationals.

Russians In U. S.
The acting secretary gave this breakdown on Soviet Nationals in the United States as of July 1: Embassy and consular personnel, including military and naval, 159; international organizations, 89, of which 80 are Soviet representatives to the United Nations; Soviet purchasing commission, 27; Amtorg Trading Corp., 228; scientific workers of Soviet ministry of Agriculture, 3; scientific workers of Soviet ministry of technical corp., 4; representatives of Soviet news agency Tass, 3; miscellaneous, 3, for total of 516.

Lovett added that there are an estimated 250 "wives, children and other dependents" of Soviet personnel now in the United States.

He said the State Department of Information indicates that a number of U. S. press correspondents have not received favorable action upon their visa applications and that the majority of correspondents who have obtained permission to enter the Soviet Union did so after "protracted delay."

Heart Attack Takes 'Big Red'

One of turfdom's greatest competitive hearts was still late Saturday when "Man-O-War" died.

The greatest money winner of all time had been ill since last summer. He will be buried today in his private paddock at the base of a statue which will immortalize him in bronze.

Glee Club Enjoys Annual Reunion

Apollo Club Holds Annual Reunion Dinner In Sylvan Heights Club House

Old songs, old friends and old friends were joined Saturday night, November 1, when the Apollo club held its annual reunion in the Sylvan Heights club. Fifty-four were present and like the many previous reunions this one was enjoyed by the former glee club singers and their wives. G. Wilfred Thomas, president of the association, was in charge of the evening and asked Griff Thomas to pronounce the invocation. Following an excellent dinner prepared by Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Haycock, a short program was presented.

Speakers Reminiscence
Several of the members spoke briefly and reminisced of the days when the glee club was in active concert work. Among the speakers were Albert C. Harris of Akron, O.; Lester W. McClelland and Robert Watkins of Pittsburgh. Joseph Stritmatter of Coraopolis was heard in several solos, accompanied by Mrs. Stritmatter, and a quartet consisting of Russell P. Rhodes, Arthur B. Harris, David W. Rees and Leonard W. Kisthart pleased. The quartet was accompanied by Mrs. John M. Evans. A short memorial for the five former members who have died was held with Griff Thomas offering the prayer. Officers were elected as follows: president, G. Wilfred Thomas; vice president, Albert J. Genkinger; secretary, Edwin J. Williams; and treasurer, Griff Thomas.

For the dinner the tables were decorated in an autumn motif, this being done by Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Sadler and Mr. and Mrs. William McCombs.

Syracuse's cross-country coach, Bob Grieve, was a former Western Conference sprint champion.

Will Circulate Petitions For Return Of Bingo

WHEELING, W. Va., Nov. 3.—(INS)—Petitions were being circulated in Wheeling asking for the return of bingo games despite a recent ruling by the attorney general banning them as illegal.

The petitions asked city and county authorities to permit operation of bingo under rigid rules to insure fair practice. Citing several organizations which had run bingo, the petitions said the games were operated to the "complete satisfaction" of the signers.

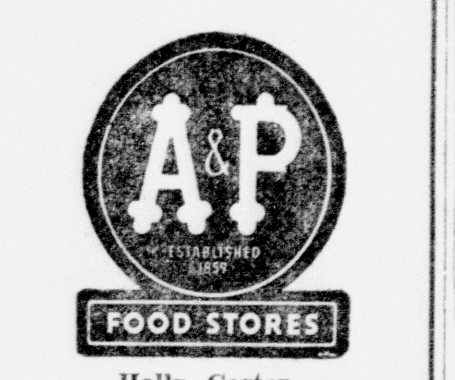

However, one of the organizations named, the Eagles Club, informed Police Chief Alonzo Hixenbaugh, that the petitioners were not authorized by the Eagles.

Nearly 4,000 individual operations are required in manufacturing the parts of one watch.

Special Program At Croton Church

The W. S. C. S. and the Wesleyan Service Guild of the Croton Methodist church will meet in the church for a twelve dinner Tuesday evening. Group singing will be under the direction of Miss Betty Jane Nelson. A special program has been arranged with Miss Mary Alice White of the First Methodist church, New Castle, speaking on the "State of Women".

"Acquaintance with the Methodist Hymnal" will be presented by a double quartet of young ladies.

During the business session the officers for the year will be elected and the annual "self denial offering" will be taken.

Railroad Disc Brake Perfected

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 3.—(INS)—The Budd Company has announced perfection of a new railroad disc brake.

The company says its new model CP disc brake will stop a railway passenger car without discomfort to passengers from 60 miles an hour in less than 1,000 feet, from 80 miles an hour in less than 1,600 feet and from 100 miles an hour in less than 2,500 feet.

"This means," President Edward G. Budd, Jr., said "that with our new disc brake a car can be brought from high speed to a comfortable stop 1,000 feet short of the best that can be accomplished with the clasp brake. This can mean the difference between a collision and no collision. It can mean the difference between life and death."

Scientists Seek To Improve Alloys With New Device

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 3.—(INS)—A miniature rolling mill that crushes a 100-foot-length of metal into a mile long strip, is aiding Westinghouse scientists to produce improved magnetic alloys and detect the secrets of magnetism.

Trygve D. Yensen, of the research laboratories disclosed that the laboratory rolling mill has made possible production of hyperco, a magnetic alloy that points to lighter and smaller engines.

The two roll mill, standing less than six feet, is capable of rolling metal into strips so thin that a stock of 2,000 would be barely an inch high.

By probing into metals with the rolling mill, scientists may learn if theories of magnetic domains or billions of saturated areas, are correct.

All the magnetized atoms in these areas are thought to be lined up in the same direction to produce a powerful effect.

The alloy hyperco, is a combination of iron, cobalt, and chromium that carries more magnetism than any other metal or alloy useful in the construction of equipment such as aircraft motors and generators.

Push-Button Future Seen In Foundry Work

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 3.—(INS)—Foundry work is being renovated from its dirty past to a plush new future, complete with push-button, fluorescent lighting and air-conditioning.

Details of the transformation came from C. B. Dick, manager of the Westinghouse Electric Corp., feeder division.

In the Westinghouse Trafford Foundry, which is serving as a working laboratory, engineers have doubled the number of electric engines used.

Operations once done manually are being completed with the aid of newly-devised machinery. According to Dick, the best machine so far introduced is the "sand slinger," which delivers sand from a central bin and shoves it into molds at the rate of a thousand pounds a minute. The big advantage, declares Dick, is that the operator actually rides a machine on a movable boom.

Instead of a shovel he uses a control stick.

Roller bearing conveyor lines for moving heavy molds are replacing muscular shoulders, Dick added.

Chipping and grinding operations are made obsolete by mechanized equipment.

But the best results, Dick concluded, have been the decreased absenteeism and increased production.

Senator Proposes Incentive Basis For Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—(INS)—Sen. Ball (R) Minn., proposed today that congress might advance aid for Europe on an "incentive" basis whereby foreign countries would get more food and fuel as they boosted their own production.

Ball made his suggestion as President Truman's council of economic advisers recommended revival of some wartime powers in a report outlining the impact of foreign aid on the domestic economy. At the same time, Commerce Secretary Harriman asked continuation of government controls on rail transportation and U. S. exports including steel, coal and petroleum.

The young GOP senator, fresh from a visit in his home state, emphasized that he had "a lot of questions" to ask before taking a final position on the problems of European aid and price stabilization in the special session of congress starting Nov. 17.

But on the formula to be used in giving assistance to the 16 western European countries seeking Marshall plan help, he had this to say:

"I'd like to see an incentive plan to increase the food and fuel we send in proportion to the increased production achieved in these 16 countries."

Around Hollywood

By JOHN TODD

International News Service Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 3.—To the public Hollywood may appear to be the world's most exciting place, but to one of its own notables, Anne Baxter, it has a serious flaw. She thinks it's very difficult to find entertainment in filmland for visitors from out of town.

Said Anne: "You're at your wits end to think of some place to take them. We hardly have what you can call a theatre season, such as New York City or Chicago or lots of other places."

Rather Dull Place
"We have only two top night spots, and how does that compare with New York or the other big cities of the country?"

Anne, who's playing Clark Gable's wife in M-G-M's "Home-Coming," shook her head and opined that all in all Hollywood's a rather dull place. She added: "Of course, we get invited to parties which are sometimes exciting, but you can't count on those to entertain your own guests."

Recalls Incident

Roland Winters got thinking about a humorous incident on the stage in Portland, Me., 16 years ago when he met Russell Hicks in the cast of Columbia's "The Return of October."

Roland told your reporter: "We were playing together in that super-thriller, 'Dracula.' Hicks was playing the vampire and I was pursuing him. In the last scene I come upon Hicks lying in his coffin in the cellar of the castle."

"You know the legend that you must kill a vampire by driving a stake through his heart."

With French Fries
"Well, in the play when I see Hicks I turn to my aide and say, 'Quick, George, give me the stake.'"

"You know that Hicks is a rather dignified fellow who's not given to pranks, and for the first five nights everything went along fine. 'But, on the sixth night, when I turned and said, 'Quick, George, give me the stake,' a whisper came from the coffin. It said, 'and with French friend potatoes, please.' It almost broke up the show."

Be Quick To Treat Bronchitis

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe the inflamed, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. Creomulsion blends beechwood creosote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics.

No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. (Adv.)

Mystery Plane Wreckage Found

EL PASO, Tex., Nov. 3.—(INS)—Army ground search crews were confronted today with the mystery of identifying the wreckage of a BT-13A plane found near El Paso.

Army officials said parachute harness was still in the BT-13A but that no skeleton or any remains of a human could be found near the wreckage. They said it was possible the crashed ship might have been investigated earlier.

Marshall Puts War Losses At Over 15 Million

CHICAGO, Nov. 3.—(INS)—Secretary of State George C. Marshall declared in a statement released today that World War II losses in military personnel "exceeded 15,000,000."

Marshall's figure was contained in an entry on "conclusions" written by him in the "World War II" section of the Encyclopedia Britannica's "ten eventful years." The publication covers the years 1937 to 1946.

The wartime army chief limited his war loss computations to those killed and missing in action who fought with the principal belligerents, both Allied and Axis. He asserted:

"The very considerable costs to the smaller countries, particularly Poland and the nations in southeastern Europe, added thousands more to the total."

The Secretary of State pointed out that the full cost of the war "either in intrinsic values or in intangibles" will never be known. Marshall said Soviet Russia suffered the greatest loss, losing one person in every 22 of its known 1940 population. He stated the war cost the United States 235,994 lives, or one in every 500; while Great Britain lost 305,770 from the home islands, which represented one in every 150.

Saturday, according to State Police. The cars side-swiped on a curve and Haza's auto over-turned upon the highway. No one was injured, the report added.

Car Plunges Into 15-Foot Ditch On Road At Chewton

William Duzyk, 90 South Lee avenue, operator, and Michael Bango, West Pittsburg, occupant, were shaken up when the car operated by Duzyk plunged into a 15 foot ditch along the Chewton-Ellwood City highway at 7:30 p. m. Sunday. The car was badly damaged.

According to a State Police investigation, Duzyk was driving from Ellwood City toward Wampum, when a tractor and semi-trailer came in the opposite direction, monopolizing the road. Duzyk drove upon the berm to escape a collision.

His car ran into a 15 foot ditch which crosses beneath the highway.

One of the reasons George Washington gave for retiring at the end of his second term was that newspapers assailed him in "such exaggerated and indecent terms as could scarcely be applied to a Negro, a notorious defaulter, or even to a common pickpocket."

Highway Department Restocks Ash Piles

"Be prepared" is the slogan of the County Highway Department these days. It is reported by Alfred Martin, county highway superintendent, who is readying the county highway system for any type of weather that might turn up.

On the average of four car loads of cinders a week are arriving in the county on railroad sidings and the trucks and men of the local maintenance department are busy engaged in transporting the ashes to the depositories along the local roads. The first snowfall will not catch the department off guard.

Work of putting up snow fences in the county is still progressing rapidly. A good part of the work is completed and will continue until every place where snow might drift onto the roads is taken care of.

TURKEY MAY BE USED OFFENER ON MENUS
STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Nov. 3.—(INS)—Meat consumers may soon have several new delicacies to tuck into their palates.

At the recent conference of Pennsylvania poultrymen at Pennsylvania State college, producers offered suggestions for increasing the use of turkey meat beyond the holiday seasons.

Growers were told that turkey steaks, turkey sausages, turkey wieners and turkey bologna were new market items with definite possibilities.

Among turtles are sea-dwellers, these dividing their time between land and water, land-tubbers, and even turtles that live underground.

CRISP VEGETABLE SALADS FOR FALL

Up until the first frost, the last of your garden vegetables can be used for fresh crisp fall salads. Salad once a day is a good food habit for every family because a salad adds important food values to a meal.

Cabbage, green peppers, endive, celery, onions, cucumbers, tomatoes, and any other vegetable still on hand from the garden, may be combined in many different salads to suit the family tastes. Raw salads add color, flavor and interesting texture to contrast with cooked foods.

Salads are best to eat and best for health when prepared just before mealtime. Cut or shred vegetables when the meal is nearly ready and add the dressing at the very last minute.

For mixed vegetable salads the dressing may be mixed right in the bowl, have crisp, dry ingredients cut in medium sized pieces, sprinkle with seasonings, vinegar, and salad oil and toss lightly so that each piece is coated but none are mashed or bruised.

Raw kale adds interest and flavor when shredded and mixed with other vegetables. Endive may be used in place of lettuce for the foundation of a hearty salad. Endive served alone with a spicy dressing, such as bacon dressing, makes a delicious salad.

Bacon Dressing
Serves four—enough for one quart of endive
1 egg
4 tablespoons sugar (¼ cup)
1½ tablespoons flour
3 slices bacon, chopped

½ teaspoon salt
¼ cup vinegar (seant)
1 cup milk
Beat egg. Add sugar, flour, salt. Add vinegar. Add milk. Fry bacon in pan. Add egg mixture. Cook until thickened. Cool slightly. Pour over chopped greens and mix well.

CONTROL ORCHARD MICE WITH POISON BAITS

Recent surveys show that about 40 per cent of the fruit trees in the major fruit producing areas of Pennsylvania are threatened by mice.

The injury caused by these rodents varies from a trace of damage to complete girdling of the trunks. The present infestation may cause serious damage during the coming winter if not controlled.

Since the large increase in mouse population can be attributed largely to the excessive cover crop growth, one step in control is partial diskings of the cover crops. This practice will result in a greater kill of the rodents and better protection of the trees.

Use of poison bait placed in the areas where mice are prevalent will complete the control program. Two poison baits which have proved most satisfactory for control of mice are zinc phosphide and starch-coated strychnine-treated wheat. In some instances steam crushed oats treated with zinc phosphide or strychnine have been used.

The treated grain baits are placed under bait stations, such as bundles of corn fodder, basket lids, or fertilizer sacks. Zinc phosphide is applied to freshly cut apple cubes or cubes made from fresh vegetables. The cubes are cut to about three-fourths of an inch and after treatment are placed in the runways of the mice.

In 1945-46, about 4,000,000 pieces were added to the Library of Congress' collection.

America Becoming Nation Of Trailers

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 3.—(INS)—America is gradually becoming a nation of "trailer-livers", according to the Trailer Coach Manufacturers Association.

And residents of the eastern United States apparently are soon to bear the brunt of a campaign to convince them to move into trailers.

Edward L. Wilson, managing director of the association, said that proposed development of trailer coach parks in this area has aroused "great interest and the outlook is becoming promising."

Musical Halloween Program Presented

Julia Johns Guest Soloist At Ne-Ca-Hi Student Assembly Entertainment Given Twice

An elaborate and unusual halloween program was presented Thursday and again on Friday in the senior high school auditorium with Miss Julia Johns, a former student, as guest soloist.

Taking part in a presentation of the witch scene from "Macbeth" were Wayne Fullerton as Macbeth, James Lamore as Banquo one day, and Wilma Caville, Suzanne Elder, and Harriett Burke as the witches. Music for the scene was furnished by Olive Black at the piano and Albert Burick on the drums. Narrators were Eva Dupont and Barbara Van.

Second half of the program was a gypsy scene that opened with a group of the opera choir singing "Dry Bones". Taking part in the accompanying skeleton dance were Allene Morrow, Camella DeLorenzo, Peggy Floyd, and Barbara Marquis. Accordionist was Anthony Morgan.

Robert A. Duff sang "The Gypsy Trail" and the next number was "Valse Triste" played by the band with Dorothy Barge doing a solo dance.

Highlighting this portion of the program were two solos by Miss Johns, "My Little Gypsy Sweetheart" and "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life".

In a gypsy dance were Barbara Homan, Jane Irvin, Audrey Black and Nancy Johnson.

Groups of squad leaders in gypsy costume swelled the colorful assemblage on stage.

Interurban Buses Plan Later Use Of New Highway

Buses traveling between this city and Youngstown or Cleveland, will continue to travel the old Route 422 for some time yet, it was announced this morning, by Mrs. Ernest Crawford, of the local bus terminal on North Jefferson street. Before the interurban buses can use the new route between this city and the Ohio border, permission must be granted by the P. U. C. as the road takes an entirely new course and only permission is granted to operate on the old route.

It is thought though, that when permission is granted, the buses traveling from Cleveland to Pittsburgh will use the new route entirely, while those operating between New Castle and Youngstown will use the old route to accommodate commuter patrons who reside along the road.

It is estimated that the servant-less homemakers of the present day get more done in less time than their mothers did 30 years ago with an able-bodied helper. Modern builders provide such time savers as streamlined kitchens with easily cleaned tile walls, plus automatic cookers, electric dish washers, and many other labor-saving devices to ease the housewife's burdens.

A tarsier is a genus of small East Indian animals closely related to the lemurs. It inhabits trees in the Malay and Philippine Archipelago. Board Decisions Are Kept Secret

Claimants' Names In Appeals From Jobless Benefit Decisions Shielded

OTHER NEWS OF STATE AFFAIRS

HARRISBURG, Nov. 3.—(INS)—Alleged blacklisting by some employers reportedly has prompted the unemployment compensation board of review to withhold claimants' names when announcing decisions on appeals for jobless benefits. Capitol newsmen have pleaded for identification of persons involved in some of the board's decisions that might prove to be precedent setting in unemployment compensation policies. The board stopped announcing names several months ago and finally disclosed that it had acted to protect the claimants. Complaints had reached the board that some firms were listing persons who appealed to the agency as bad experience rating risks. Employers' contributions to the unemployment compensation fund from which benefits are paid is based on job turn-overs.

House Majority Leader Herbert P. Sarg, Elk county Republican serving as acting speaker of the state house of representatives, has two big "ifs" in his political future. The 36-year-old leader who turned in a credible job during the 1947 session of the General Assembly, probably will be elected to a full term as speaker in 1949 if the Republicans carry the house and if he is victorious in his legislative district. Democrats now have a registration plurality in the county-wide legislative district of about 1000. Sarg won in 1946 by 1358 votes. He became acting speaker October 15 when Franklin H. Lichtenwalter resigned to assume the duties of GOP congressman in the eighth (Bucks-Lehigh) district.

The much criticized two-member liquor control board dominated by Chairman Frederick T. Gelder is a lush field for political speculators. While Gov. James H. Duff made a frantic search for a third member to round-out the administrative agency that controls a $250,000,000 liquor monopoly, rumors circulated that Charles C. McGovern, appointed last February, may resign. Persons closely associated with McGovern countered the rumors with an assertion that the tough, wise-cracking member would stick with the board only if to plague Gelder. It is well known that the two men, extreme opposites, have their differences. McGovern indicated when he took office that he would endeavor to force some changes in board policy governing purchases and sales to the public. There has been no obvious change. The board's recent run-in with Auditor General G. Harold Wagner over his delay in approving orders for $200,000 worth of beverages which he claimed were inferior indicated Gelder was still master of the board. The LCB chairman hinted in strong tones that he would not yield to Wagner's demand for a voice in purchasing.

A Washington newsman visiting the state capitol newsroom reported that George I. Bloom, secretary to U. S. Sen. Edward Martin, has a lot of "political savvy" and is not overshadowed by others holding similar posts. He said Martin's advisors at Washington had not given up hope that the veteran Republican could win the party's presidential nomination should a deadlock develop.

Pfc. John Conte Is Buried Today

Military Services Follow Requiem High Mass From St. Vitus Church This Morning

LEGION POST ACCORDS HONORS

Military honors were accorded Pfc. John Conte, the first of the community's war dead to be brought home for burial, whose funeral was conducted this morning, with solemn requiem high mass in St. Vitus church at 10 o'clock.

Rev. Fr. Albert M. Inteso was celebrant. Rev. Fr. John Brueckner, deacon; Rev. Fr. V. Bertoline, sub-deacon; and Rev. Fr. Nicholas DeMita, master of ceremonies.

Burial At St. Vitus Cemetery
Following the services in the church, the body was taken to St. Vitus cemetery, where military services were conducted by Perry S. Gaston Post No. 343. A. E. Walker served as commander, and Charles E. Allen as chaplain, following the committal services by Rev. Fr. Inteso.

Father Inteso recalled the heroism of the men from St. Vitus parish, who answered the call to arms when their country needed them, and also that Pfc. Conte was the first of 24 men who gave their lives in the service for their country, to come home to their final resting place. He asked that they be remembered in the prayers of the congregation.

The burial escort, commanded by A. E. Walker, assisted with the ceremonies, which accorded Pfc. Conte full military honors. The firing squad, commanded by Andrew E. Harcar, was composed of Frank Chirumbolo, Albert Russo, P. Dale Johnston, Michael LaRosa, Morton K. Love, Wayne Backes, and N. C. Anderson.

The color bearers were Alvin Kulkin and Clifford Barr, with Don Crowl and Stewart Jones, as color guards.

Pall bearers were Robert Ferrell, Ralph B. Hayes, A. Lewis Conn, Harvey Birtim, Paul L. Rowland, Jr., Harley Shoaff, Sr., Evan M. Evans and R. Harold Blewitt. Harley Shoaff, 2nd, bugler was assisted by Joseph Colaluca, from the senior high school.

Cpl. Thomas A. Davelli, who took part in the military services for Pfc. Conte, when he was buried on Wake Island, serving as a member of the honor guard, represented the U. S. Army, presenting Mrs. Conte with the flag with which the casket was draped.

Rev. and Mrs. F. P. Sulmonetti, Phillips street, have returned from visiting their daughters, Mrs. Nicholas Richetti, Jamestown, N. Y., and Mrs. Anthony Valone, Warren, Pa. They also served as delegates of Christ Methodist church Saturday and Sunday at the church school superintendents' conference in the First Methodist church, Warren.

Wilkinsburg Votes On Sunday Movies

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 3.—(INS)—Voters in nearby Wilkinsburg, Pennsylvania's largest borough, will cast ballots tomorrow on whether to permit Sunday movies. Indian Plane Is Dropping Bombs

NEW DELHI, Nov. 3.—(INS)—A Moslem official at Rawalpindi charged today that one of three bombs dropped by an Indian plane in an attack on the Khala bridge hit a town in Moslem Pakistan territory.

The alleged bombing was the latest development in the Moslem-Hindu "war" in Kashmir over the decision of the princely state's Hindu Maharajah to join the Hindu Union of India.

The word "commode" originally meant a tall headdress which had a fan-shaped frame covered by silk or lace.

Club Rooms

Officers were installed and the second annual dinner enjoyed Sunday afternoon and evening when the Shenango Pup Tent, 25, held its second annual meeting Sunday in the Neshannock post, Veterans of Foreign Wars club rooms on Washington street.

The installation and annual business meeting took place in the afternoon with the dinner held at 6:30 in the evening. State grand officers had charge of the installation and later spoke at the dinner.

George Hunt In Charge

George Hunt, past Seam Squirrel of the local pup tent was the master of ceremonies at the dinner. Rev. Thomas J. Jones of First Congregational Church delivered the invocation. Speakers included the Grand Senior Vice Commander Joseph Egan of Pittsburgh, State Judge Advocate General Thomas Moore of Oil City, Supreme Aid de camps, William Kulling of Oil City, and Mrs. Thomas Moore, of Oil City, a leader in the Cooties. Local speakers included Rev. Thomas J. Jones, VFW commander, Walter A. Kilar, Bart Richards, and Mrs. Isabelle McKee of the Ladies Auxiliary of the VFW. Miss Jennie Basile, a young lady who has done much to aid the hospital work of the Cooties was introduced.

Fine Work Done

With little fanfare or publicity the Shenango Pup Tent of the Cooties has done a continuing job of aid to the Deshon veterans hospital near Butler. Under the chairmanship of George Christoph the members have had a program of entertainment and aid to the vets that has won them a reputation over the state. For his work as chairman Mr. Christoph has been named hospital chairman for the western Pennsylvania district.

Entertainment, magazines, cigarettes, personal visits, all of these have been a part of the fine work done by the local Cooties and in the past year considerable money and time has been spent in furthering the program. Far from being a "play order," the Cooties are organized for work with hospitalized veterans and the Shenango pup tent has justified its existence.

Norman Minner was introduced and in turn presented the newly elected officers. They included: Seam Squirrel, Don Goodrich; Blanket Bum, Ed Coyne; Hide Gimlet, Frank Calabrese; Sky Pilot, Joseph Lane; C. C. Duffie Bags, Albert Shook; Keeper of Records, John D'Orio; Tightwads, Joseph Walzer; J. W. King, and Albert Pilshaw. Pill pusher, Tom Freed; Hospital chairman, Hardin Stebbins; Hungry Cootie, A. B. Reid; Provost Marshall, Ed Zollinger; Shirt Reader, Byron Hoon; Shyster, James A. Bell and Jimmy Legs, Norman Minner.

St. Vitus Church Cemetery Dedicated

Impressive Ceremony Marks Dedication: Large Crowd Hears Speakers Sunday

Weather proved ideal for the impressive dedication services of the new St. Vitus cemetery in Shennango township, Sunday afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock.

The occasion, marking another step forward in the growth of St. Vitus church, drew a large crowd of parishoners, altar boys and members of the clergy.

Rev. Fr. Nicholas DeMita, was celebrant; Rev. Fr. Richard Paluse, Wampum, was deacon; and Rev. Fr. V. Bertoline, sub-deacon. Rev. Fr. Albert M. Inteso, was master of ceremonies.

Rev. Fr. John Brueckner, chaplain of the New Castle Hospital, was a visiting priest.

At New Altar
The services were conducted in front of the new altar, where hereafter all cemetery services will be conducted. The litany of the saints was recited, and the processional then was held. All ten acres of the new cemetery were blessed with the prayer being recited to purify, bless and sanctify the ground.

During the services, Rev. Fr. Richard Paluse addressed the crowd, stressing the fact that the parishoners should be proud of the new cemetery, and consider it a great step in the progress of the church.

Rev. Fr. Nicholas DeMita, pastor, also spoke, extending a plea to the parishoner to help in keeping the cemetery in an excellent condition. "I am happy to give this gift to my parishoners," he said, "which will be their resting place, and also my final resting place."

This morning the new cemetery received its first person, and Lawrence county's first war dead returned from overseas as Pfc. John Conte, was laid to rest. The military funeral services were held at the grave, following the 10 o'clock requiem mass in St. Vitus church.

Indicator At Wampum

A radio weather indicator dispatched from the U. S. Weather Bureau office, Pittsburgh, early today, was found at 7 a. m. today on the farm of Mrs. Esther Kelly of R. D. 1, Wampum.

Making the find were Eugene Tillia and Russell Fosnot, both of R. D. 1 Wampum. The markings on the indicator indicated that it left Pittsburgh some time this morning.

Mr. Fosnot, on a trip from Warren, Pa., on Sunday afternoon, sighted a black bear along the road in the vicinity of Oil City.

Witnesses said the Swallow youth, in company with two companions, built a fire to roast some potatoes. The grass was dry and the fire spread, setting the cowboy suit aflame.

Titans Defeated By Geneva 26-0

Karcis Of Geneva Races 84 Yards For Feature Score, Saturday Night

(Special To The News)

BEAVER FALLS, Nov. 3.—Westminster threw a mild scare into the Geneva college Covies at Reeves stadium here Saturday night, when the Genevans rolled for a 26-0 win, their fifth of the season. For the Titans it was their fifth loss against one win.

The lightly-regarded Titans stymied the Covies for most of two periods, and after the Ramsom coached team scored in the late stages of the second canto the Titans moved to the Geneva 17 where time ran out. Despite the 26-0 score, Westminster was in the game the whole way mostly on the accurate passing arm of little Joe Mastro. First downs were 11 apiece. Westminster completed eight of 32 aerial attempts.

Geneva's first tally resulted from an 87-yard march. The Covies took over on their own 13 after a Titan drive ran out of steam. With Adam Karcis pitching and running Geneva went down field on five first downs to score. Karcis plunged over from the three. Hinzman missed the extra point try. The first half ended with Geneva ahead 6-0.

Karcis Goes 84 Yards
The first time Geneva handled the ball in the third period Karcis went off tackle for 84 yards and a score. Hinzman again failed to convert.

A pass interception by Geneva's "Mugs" McPherson, the first of two, led to the Covies third score. McPherson returned a Mastro pass 20 yards to the Titan 23. Edwards pitched to McElhaney on the Westminster six. Three plays later Ivan Radatovich scored from the one. Hinzman's kick made the count 19-0.

Titans Threaten
A few moments later McPherson again proved Mastro's best receiver, intercepting on his own 37. Then, on an off-tackle thrust, McPherson raced 63 yards for the final Geneva score. Hinzman added the extra point, making the final score 26-0.

Westminster threatened in the final stages of the game, but a holding penalty cost the Titans a possible scoring chance. For Geneva it was the 32nd win in the 57-year-old rivalry.

The bout will be staged at New York's Madison Square Garden. Joe said that if he beats Walcott he wants to defend his title again in March and next June.

SNAP McKEESPORT WINNING STREAK

Eddie Jacobs, Armand Lauro And Craig Register Touchdowns Sunday

Combining weight with tricky formations, the Wabash Bears local semi-pro gridders handed the McKeesport Legionnaires of Bryn Mawr Post 701 their first defeat in nine straight starts Sunday at the Union High field as perhaps 1,000 fans sat in the chilling weather and cheered the locals on. The score was 21 to 0.

Coach Blackie Adamo started his strongest lineup and had command of the game from the very outset when the Bears' big left tackle, Mike Roussos, former Pitt star, smeared Sellers back of the ball line for a safely, the game only a minute or so old.

Craig Scores First

Tony Craig, the elusive hard-running fullback of the Bears, scored the first touchdown after the visitors had put the ball in play from their 20-yard line following a safety. The Bears started a drive goalward, Craig smashing over from the 5-yard line to make it 8 to 0 as Roussos missed the extra point by placement.

Eddie Jacobs, the will-of-the-wisp left half, scored the second Bears' touchdown just as the first half ended, on a lateral from Tanner, who had taken a pass thrown by A. Lauro from the McKeesport 10-yard line. Roussos made the extra point by placement.

Melchior Shines

Armand Lauro made the Bears' third touchdown in the third period on a plunge from the 5-yard line after Eugene Melchior, the Bears' great center, had set up the touchdown by intercepting a McKeesport pass on the 25-yard line. Roussos missed the extra point.

The McKeesport team never got closer than the Bears 11-yard line all afternoon. The first downs were 15 to 6 in favor of the locals.

The Bears are looking ahead to the November 14 game with the Ellwood City Trojans. President William Domenick of the Bears is booking some strong teams for the month of November here.

Dinner Honors Ellwood Moose

County Leaguers Have Enjoyable Time At Testimonial Banquet Saturday Night

Baseball shouldered its way back into the local sports scene for a brief two hours Saturday night as the members of the Lawrence County league gathered in the Castleton hotel to honor the Ellwood Moose club, 1947 flag winners.

The dinner, one of the most successful ever held by the league, moved at a fast pace due mainly to the excellent emceeing of Sheriff Frank Coen, whose seemingly inexhaustible fund of baseball anecdotes kept the assembly in an uproar.

Following a delicious turkey dinner and pep singing led by Herb Smith with Jack Huston at the piano, hoop president Alec Samuels introduced Sheriff Coen who called upon speakers for brief remarks.

Mayor Is Present

Mayor John F. Haven was first on the list and stressed the importance of baseball for the recreational progress of a community. A one-time player, himself, the mayor expressed his pride in the function of the county league—an organization which affords a competitive sport for athletes of all ages, with the accent on the development of youth.

Subsequent speakers were "Jim" Martin, loop secretary, Carl B. Romack, league vice-president, Charles "Bugs" Walther, City League prexy, Bill Maughn and Jack Reider, Boston Braves scouts, B. N. Hanlon, treasurer of the league, Dick Freidhoff, manager of the Moose, Charles "Lefty" Tanner, city product now with the Braves chain as an outfielder, Eddie Lukon, Cincinnati Reds player, and William Andrews, "father" of County League baseball.

It was an evening steeped in tales and lore of the diamond—an evening of fine fellowship and fun, and one that will be long remembered by those present.

Manager Freidhoff of the Moose was presented a check for $200 from President Samuels, and "Jim" Martin of the Bessemer club, was the recipient of the $100 due the runners-up in the play-offs.

Americans Record Most Convincing Ryder Cup Sweep; Take 11 Out of 12

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 3.—(INS)—Victorious American golfers lugged the golden Ryder Cup off to P.G.A. headquarters today as the defeated British team scattered after the most overwhelming—and wettest—victory since the series began in 1927.

The American aces won 11 of the 12 matches.

It looked like a clean sweep until lean-faced Sam King defeated Herman Keiser of Akron, O., 4 and 3, in the last match of the meet. The Americans took all four doubles matches Saturday.

America now has won five of the seven Anglo-American tournaments.

As the captains and the kings departed, the scoreboard looked like this:

Singles:
Sam Snead trounced Henry Cotton, captain of the British team, 5 and 4.

Lew Worsham of Chevy Chase, Md., defeated Jim Adams, 3 and 2.

Lloyd Mangrum, the Texas-born Tann O'Shanter pro, won from Max Faulkner, 6 and 5.

Ed "Porky" Oliver defeated Charles Ward, 4 and 3.

"Lord" Byron Nelson edged out Arthur Lee, 2 and 1.

E. J. "Dutch" Harrison defeated Fred Daly, 5 and 4.

Jimmy Demaret won from Dai Rees, 3 and 2.

King defeated Keiser, 4 and 3.

Foursomes:
Oliver and Worsham trounced Cotton and Lees, 10 and 9.

Ben Hogan and Demaret defeated Adams and Faulkner, 2 and 1.

Snead and Mangrum defeated Daly and Ward, 6 and 5.

Nelson and Barron whipped Rees and King, 2 and 1.

Shines Defeat Shamrocks, 7-0

"Archie" Zaron took a lateral from Micalletti and ran 15 yards for the only touchdown of the game as the G. I. Shines defeated the East Side Shamrocks, 7-0 Sunday at Washington field.

It was the third straight victory of the season for the G. I. eleven which has yet to yield a point to the opposition.

Penn State's 1947 football team pack plenty of weight. The starting line averages better than 200 pounds, while the backfield falls under 200 pounds only when 169-pound Wally Triplett is stationed in the windup spot. Johnny Nolan, co-captain and tackle, at 228 pounds is the heaviest man on the starting eleven.

Sam Francis, now coaching at Kansas State, was a shot-putter with the U. S. Olympic team in 1936.

'Dutch' Wiltrout Scores Twice As Point Parade Falls In Only One Period

(Special To The News)

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 3.—Coach Bill Young's powerful Trojans breezed past the Lindora Hornets here Saturday night at the high school field, 21-12. A crowd of 2,500 fans looked on as the locals showed superiority in every department.

After scoring in the first and second quarters Coach Young used a plentiful sprinkling of subs and against the second team the Butler eleven notched a score before the end of the half.

Wiltrout Tallies

Ellwood moved in 13 plays for their first counter, covering 69 yards in the march with "Dutch" Wiltrout going over from the one. Vince Manauzzi bucked over for the point.

Wiltrout again hit pay dirt in the second stanza, sweeping 11 yards. Again Manauzzi plunged for the conversion.

The Hornets steamed 44 yards for their score with Graick hanging over from the three.

In the fourth period Sudano sidestepped 17 yards through a broken field for the third six-pointer and A. Grinnik raced 52 yards for Lindora. Cintani booted the Ellwood point.

Meet Altoona Indies

Thursday night the Trojans will be host to the Altoona Indies, a benefit game for Chet Bosnosky, former high school ace, who is ill.

Elated At Chance

"Lefty" is elated at the chance to enter faster ball. He told The News that he knows he is going into a classy loop—one that feeds many players to the "big show."

"I only hope I can make the grade," he said, "I feel pretty good after having had stomach trouble. I'm still on a strict diet but I think by spring I'll be ready to go."

Sports fans of the city wish the big blond athlete the best of luck as he watch his meteoric rise to a crack at a major league try-out.

Sateen Pajamas

are Back!

Last year at this time, you couldn't get sateen pajamas—not for love nor money.

Sateen is ideal for pajamas. It's smooth against your skin, it's porous, and it takes print patterns brilliantly (like the exclusive Manhattan pattern above).

Notched lapels, plenty of arm and leg room. Tailored by Manhattan—the mark of quality since 1857.

Former Years

OTHER NEWS OF COURT HOUSE

Lawrence county's dog license total for 1947 is the highest in the history of the county, according to County Treasurer Frank W. Hill. As of Saturday, November 1, at noon there are 9964 licenses issued.

Dog enforcement officers are at work in the county and owners who have not licensed their dogs are subject to fine. It seems certain there are many dogs not licensed here and despite the fact that the year is ten months old, the owner of an unlicensed dog may still be arrested.

HUNTING LICENSE RUSH

For the past several days the county treasurer's office has been jammed with hunters seeking licenses. Most of them are resident hunters but the number of non-resident licenses is running high.
